

National Strength and Conditioning Association
Education Recognition Program

APPLICATION

NSCA™

National Strength and Conditioning Association

Bridging the gap between science and application

GENERAL INFORMATION AND INSTRUCTIONS:

- This application is submitted by a regional accredited academic institution of higher learning to the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) for recognition of their educational program in strength and conditioning. The program must be part of a curriculum that offers a baccalaureate degree. The program does not have to be classified as a major, a minor, a sequence or a concentration. It does however, have to be a formalized area of study.
- This recognition is good for three years. This recognition does not imply accreditation or any advantage for the NSCA certification examination. It only provides recognition from the NSCA that the institution meets minimum requirements and emphasizes anaerobic conditioning and training within the specified curriculum.
- Applications are reviewed two times per year. Application deadlines are January 1st, and June 1st each year. Applicants will be notified of approval/non-approval by February 15th or July 15th.
- There is a $500.00 administrative fee due with this application. This fee is the only fee required during the three-year period of recognition. If an application is denied recognition, then the application fee will be returned to the institution (minus a $100.00 processing fee), along with the application and reason(s) for denial.
- Once approved, the institution may disclose their NSCA recognition on any forms, documents or recruiting materials.
- By completing this application the institution authorizes the NSCA to identify them as an institution with a recognized curriculum in strength and conditioning. The NSCA may disclose this information in publications, web sites, or any other means the NSCA deems appropriate.
- The application for recognition should be typed and must provide complete information. Additional materials, such as syllabi, are required and must be attached. Additional pages may be attached as needed.
- To be recognized, institutions must have a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (CSCS), who is a full-time employee involved in the educational program as a member of the teaching faculty. The CSCS does not have to be a full-time faculty member, but must teach a minimum of one class per academic year from the ERP required curriculum.
- It is the intent of this recognition process to help institutions market their programs in strength and conditioning, and to help institutions begin to prepare their programs for possible accreditation. Approval letters will include specific NSCA statements designed to market the school's educational program.
- Forward three (3) copies of the complete application, two with original signatures, all supporting documents, and the application fee to the Education Committee of the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Section II

PROGRAM PERSONNEL STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING PROGRAM

PROGRAM DIRECTOR

The program director is the person responsible for administering the academic program and ensuring that all rules and regulations are followed, and that the program is in compliance with the standards for recognition. The program director must be a member of the teaching faculty and have voting privileges in the academic unit that houses the program. Academic rank and tenure-status are irrelevant. The program director does not necessarily need to be a CSCS.

TEACHING FACULTY

The teaching faculty of the strength and conditioning educational program shall be identified as those faculty members responsible for teaching in the required subject matter areas specified in Section III, and other didactic course work included in the strength and conditioning curriculum as identified by the institution. Members of the teaching faculty must have formal appointments in the academic unit and must be financially compensated for their services. Rank and tenure-status are irrelevant. Members of the teaching faculty can be classified as full-time, part-time, adjunct, or graduate teaching assistants. At least one (1) member of the teaching faculty must be a CSCS, and sponsor this application. On a separate page, please list the names for the faculty or staff who teach the required subject areas specified in Section III. Please note if any of the teaching faculty possess the CSCS credential, provide certification numbers when applicable.

PRECEPTORS

It is likely that individuals other than the Program Director, and members of the teaching faculty, will be involved in the supervision of the students during their practical-experience. A preceptor is any individual who provides direct supervision and instruction of students in the practical aspect of the strength and conditioning educational program. Preceptors are not required to be paid employees of the academic unit. However, it is expected that preceptors external to the academic unit, will have formal appointments, or other such recognition from the academic unit. For example, the strength coach for the athletics department may supervise students from the academic unit during their internship, without being a paid employee of the academic unit, as long as the academic unit formally acknowledges the strength coach as a preceptor. A preceptor does not necessarily need to be a CSCS. On a separate page, provide the names (and CSCS certification numbers, if applicable) of all of the preceptors responsible for the student's instruction and/or direct supervision (this includes preceptors at all affiliated settings).

AFFILIATED SETTINGS

It is likely that practical experiences will be gained at facilities external to the institution. It is expected that affiliated sites (external to the institution) will have formal affiliation agreements with the sponsoring institution. On a separate page, provide a list of the affiliated sites (list name, city, state, zip code) where practical experiences will be obtained. Also, provide the names (and CSCS certification numbers, if applicable) of the preceptors responsible for the student's instruction and direct supervision at each location.

CSCS SPONSOR

At least one CSCS must be directly involved in the education of the students in the program as a member of the teaching faculty, and must sponsor this application. The CSCS Sponsor must also be a full-time employee of the institution sponsoring this application. For example, a non-CSCS faculty member, or a non-CSCS department chairperson can be identified as the program director and can teach in the recognized strength and conditioning curriculum, as long as the institution employs a full-time CSCS who is directly involved in the educational program as a member of the teaching faculty, and who endorses this application.
